Highlight Summary

- 2.1 Channel Integrated Amplifier: Equipped with a built-in DAC, it supports four types of digital inputs. It features outputs for passive subwoofer and pre-out, facilitating easy 2.1 system configuration.
- Supports Five Digital/Analog Input Methods: Equipped with mainstream inputs like Bluetooth, RCA, COA, OPT, and USB, compatible with a wide range of audio devices. Switch input modes with a single click; settings automatically restore to previous upon restart, eliminating repetitive adjustments.
- VU Meter Design: Pointer Displays audio signal strength in real time, helping you adjust the volume to avoid overload and distortion.
- Dual Amp Chips for High Power Output: The MC351 is equipped with 2 TPA3255 amp chips from Texas Instruments, with 100 aluminum alloy cooling fins to improve heat dissipation, ensuring stable operation and sustained high-quality sound performance.
- Build Various Audio Systems with Ease: Ideal for Home Theater and HiFi Listening Scenarios
